To Whom It May Concern:

My wife and I had never intended on purchasing another house, but after meeting Christine and discussing all our options, she was an incredibly positive and calming influence on our decision. Mix that with her wonderful sense of humor and the resultant was that the entire process was painless, easy and beneficial for both sides of the sale.

We would absolutely refer Christine to any and all friends and associates, who would be interested in buying or selling real property.

The fact that she is an Australian and gave me Aussie treats is completely irrelevant to the sale of the property, but certainly made me feel at home.

Sincerely,

Paul A. Baker
