Hi Christine -

From our point of view, you went far beyond what would be expected to help us with the sale of our place. You have a wonderful balance of experience and humor that really made the whole process as easy as it could be, given the current market.

I am happy to recommend you to all my friends with a little warning about the licorice addiction that may come as a result of being too long in your company.

Thanks again for all your hard work and congrats on getting the recognition you really earned.

Best - Jenny
